

INFORMING THE NORTH TEXAS JOURNALISM / COMMUNICATOR WORKFORCE

to subscribe or to submit items, ejohn@xdycus.com In these times when journalists are disrespected, condemned, ridiculed, assaulted and constantly face layoffs, pay cuts and worse, let it be known that we honor and support journalists and journalism. Keep at it. Your work is important to the people and essential to democracy itself. - Roger Summers $\star$  In the days of hot type, a chaser was a late edition of the newspaper for which the presses were not stopped until the plates were ready. Those pages were said to be "chasing" a running press.

Fort Worth SPJ's own Rebecca Aguilar voted first Latina SPJ national president-elect

MORE ON SPJ2020 ON P. 2

Fast, easy, accessible covid-19 testing for all

_____

The death of Ruth Bader Ginsburg, and the GOP push to replace her

Trump refuses to commit to peaceful transition of power after Election Day

Reviving democracy requires reviving local journalism

Police have shot and killed at least 1,010 people in the past year

Trump health aide pushes bizarre conspiracies, warns of armed revolt

'Wildly improper': Justice Dept. statement on mail-in ballot investigation

The plunge in highly skilled work visas | 15 VoA journalists not renewed

Bob Woodward on a nightmare presidency

Watchdog: Administration rescinded Courage Award for Finnish journalist who criticized Trump, then gave false explanation for its decision

CDC revises covid-19 guidance, acknowledges aerosols, then reverses

NYT public editor: Stakes are too high to continue 'both sides' framing

In defense of populism: What it actually is, and why precision is important

San Quentin tells its own covid story

In Colorado, rival newsrooms now work together, largely by necessity

All the corroboration for the Atlantic story on Trump attacking troops

93% of BLM protests have been peaceful, new report finds

PPP with little oversight: "biggest fraud in government history"

Different shades of feminism: Me Too in the French press

Did Stars and Stripes win the fallout from Trump's 'losers' comments? Where 'grift' meets 'graft': The two words, once distinct, have become one

Sweeping internal Facebook memo: 'I have blood on my hands'

Remote work is killing the hidden trillion-dollar office economy

Sierra Club: Racism is killing the planet

Texas pols, megachurches receive millions in PPP small-business loans

Next at Fort Worth SPJ ... celebrating national News Engagement Day

For observers who consider a free press crucial to a democratic society and worry that not enough people appreciate this, a Fort Worth SPJ panel will Zoom the matter at 6 p.m. Sept. 30 in commemoration of national News Engagement Day.

News Engagement Day, Oct. 6, complements a global campaign aimed at reversing the public's declining attention to news, lack of understanding about journalism, and waning trust in the news media. People worldwide are being encouraged that day to "read, watch, like, tweet, post, listen to or comment on news, and learn news reporting principles."

Journalism educators Dr. Tracy Everbach, Jake Batsell, Dr. Sarah Maben, Dr. Kim Pewitt-Jones and Dr. Kay Colley (moderator) will discuss how journalists and j-supporters can support the effort. More here.

To join the meeting (via phone or computer):

https://us02web.zoom.us/j/81020532013?pwd=d1pwc3FNSIV1RWR2TzNYa HZPSXNjdz09 | meeting ID: 810 2053 2013 | passcode: 362516 | one tap mobile+13462487799,81020532013#,0# 362516#

QUICK HITS

- Arlington Conservation Council no meetings scheduled, but volunteer activities abound at the Molly Hollar Wildscape in Veterans Park. Info.
- BRIT it's all happening at the speed of Zoom. Info.
- GFW PRSA virtual webinar, "The Art and (Brain) Science of Effective Communications," with Kristin Graham, Amazon — 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 7. Info.
- Dow Jones News Fund deadline Nov. 9 for college juniors, seniors and graduate students to apply for paid summer 2021 internships in data journalism, digital media, business reporting and multiplatform editing. Info.
- Meetups: hosting an online event Fort Worth Chapter Nonfiction Authors Association ... Trinity Arts Writers Workshop ... 20BooksTo50k -Michael Anderle ... Fort Worth Area Journalists Meetup ... The DFW Bloggers Classroom

______

IN THE WORKPLACE: GET A JOB Listings in journalismjobs.com and dfwcommunicators.com appear in this report. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram seeks a state government/politics reporter, to be based in Austin, and a local government/politics reporter who will work out of Fort Worth. Info. ... Texas Monthly has an immediate full-time opening for a copy editor. Primary focus on the print magazine but may be asked to edit web copy and scripts for audio and video stories. Remote work for now. Info. ... Solutions Journalism Network has a part-time copy editor opening, variable hours, remote work, $55/hour. Info. ... The Pulitzer Center on Crisis Reporting seeks a full-time environment investigations editor. Remote work. Info.

BIG-TIME SUPPORTER

UT ARLINGTON

advertising • broadcast communication studies communication technology journalism • public relations

Texas Center Morn

817-

COMPLAINT LINES: Public Utility Commission 888-782-8477 | Texas Attorney General 800-621-0508 | Federal Trade Commission 877-382-4357 CREDIT BUREAUS: TransUnion 888-909-8872 | Innovis 800-540-2505 | Equifax 800-349-9960 | Experian 888-397-3742

7 POINTS OF PANDEMIC SURVIVAL | Updates with Dr. John Campbell
Q&A on coronaviruses from the World Health Organization Where to worry about catching covid-19, and where not to

"What is good journalism?"

Rambler staff members being themselves on Facebook.

ON CAMPUS The Rambler at Texas Wesleyan University scored a double handful of awards in Texas Intercollegiate Press Association and College Media Association spring judging, including a website first place and newspaper second place in Overall Excellence at TIPA. The Rambler was a finalist for a CMA Pinnacle Award in its division. TIPA announced seven individual first places, five seconds, eight thirds and four honorable mentions — 24 awards total — on the work of Rambler staffers Hannah Lathan, Ashton Willis, Elizabeth Lloyd, LaTerra Wair, Tina Huynh, Elena Maldonado, Amanda Roach, Tyreeyana Otkins, Lexi Barlow, Hannah Onder, Queen Elizondo and Hope Allison.

______

UNT's Tracy Everbach moderates a breakout session on the language journalists use to discuss sensitive topics such as race, gender and identity.

SPJ2020: It all just worked, and well

SPJ's first virtual national conference brought journalists together for two days of learning and sharing in a year of extraordinary news events — a global pandemic, racial justice protests, attacks on journalists at the highest level of government and arrests by law enforcement, and an upcoming national election that looks to be one of the most contentious in history.

Replays of the sessions will remain online through spring 2021. Retrieve your passkey for full access.

While lacking the traditional face-to-face camaraderie, the conference used Zoom to advantage, lining up working, real-time experts on topics from newsroom diversity to freelancing to covering covid-19. Breakout sessions explored journalists' mental health, science coverage, using Census data to enhance news stories, accessing healthy records and newsroom ethics.

Fort Worth SPJ member and national president-elect Rebecca Aguilar interviewed PBS NewsHour anchor Judy Woodruff about Woodruff's former PBS colleague, Gwen Ifill, who was named an SPJ fellow. She also talked to Washington Post opinions contributor Michele Norris and Ifill's brother, Bert Ifill, about his sister's legacy.

Also named SPJ fellows were Jorge Ramos, Emmy Award winner and anchor for "Noticiero Univision" since 1986; Nikole Hannah-Jones, a Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter covering racial injustice for The New York Times and creator of the "1619 Project," which places slavery and black Americans' contributions in the narrative of early U.S. history; Les Zaitz, an editor and publisher in Oregon whose family rescued a newspaper from closure; and Marty Baron, executive editor of The Washington Post.

During closing ceremonies, SPJ announced that Aguilar was elected president, tallying more than 62 percent of the vote; she will take office in September 2021. She is SPJ's first Latina president and previously served as secretary-treasurer. Freelance writer and author Kathryn Jones was reelected Region 8 coordinator.

UNT journalism professor Tracy Everbach, a member of the SPJ Diversity Committee, moderated a panel, "Words Matter," about the language journalists use in coverage of race/gender/identity issues.

Kathryn Jones

F.O.I.F.T. UPDATE: The Freedom of Information Foundation of Texas continues to hear from Texans who have encountered barriers to obtaining public information amid the pandemic. The FOIFT is tracking these problems as it works on solutions for how the Texas Public Information Act and the Texas Open Meetings Act should function during such an unprecedented emergency. Details. more eChaser on p. 3

______

Plant to planet.

INSTITUTE FOR NONPROFIT NEWS

- ICE filed 100,000+ new cases, clogged the courts at pandemic peak
- The postal service's nightmare election scenario
- Wildfire dispatch from an Oregon farm
- This is what hurricane response looks like during a pandemic
- How apocalyptic this fire season is in 1 flaming chart
- When schools reopen, we may not have enough teachers
- Millions displaced by US combat since 9-11
- Without emergency alerts in Spanish, Latino immigrants in rural N.C. are left out of local emergency preparedness
- Global banks defy crackdowns, continue serving oligarchs, terrorists

POWER TO THE PEOPLE paywall code https://dmn.pub/watchdog

• Southlake is big-time white, but its integration history is extraordinary.

• How Doc Gallagher conned area investors out of $30 million, most of which they'll never see again | 13 things you need to know about Doc Gallagher, the Bernie Madoff of North Texas

______

PEOPLE & PLACES The artists' platform CreativeMornings has opened a Fort Worth outpost, which recently received its Texas nonprofit designation. Chapter host Vivian Carrasco: "CreativeMornings/Fort Worth was born out of a great love for this city and a desire to create a space that supports, celebrates and encourages us to make the things we love. We firmly believe that everyone is creative, and that a creative life requires bravery and action, honesty and hard work. Anyone can be these things. CreativeMornings/Fort Worth is a space for everyone at all stages of their lives and careers." More here.

______

OVER & OUT | John Dycus, Fort Worth SPJ

Substance. Import. Timeliness. Tech that was almost bullet-proof. SPJ2020 powerhoused its way onto your computer screens, America, and left you wanting (needing) more. Thank you, Patti Gallagher Newberry, John Shertzer and your board/headquarters teams for a remarkable weekend of meaningful. The assembled exceptionals are as important as they are determined. They are patriots, truly. May they always have a democracy in which to ply their trade. ...

New SPJ president Matt Hall has a thing for impassioned, involved volunteers on committees. He writes: "I'm asking you to help me diversify and enrich our committees by joining — and encouraging others to join at least one of these groups: Awards and Honors, Bylaws, Diversity, Ethics, Finance, Freedom of Information, Journalism Education, Membership, Nominations or Resolutions. Not only will you be helping SPJ, but you will gain the invaluable experience, camaraderie and networking that comes with being a leader in the most broad-based journalism organization in the United States." Reach Matt at smallhalls@gmail.com. ...

From Jennifer Henderson: "My office window is my temperature gauge on Fort Worth's economy. I've seen the small businesses across the street turn their lights on every morning and off at night, and I've watched the constant hustle of patrons in and out of those businesses. I was saddened this spring when that bustle slowed down, but now, thankfully, it's starting to feel a little more normal and I sense the economic temperature rising." Here's to hope!

SPJ factoids: The United States Postal Service warned employees that they should not speak to the press and that any customer asking lots of questions may be a journalist sneakily trying to get information. Memos sent to employees instructed them to direct reporters through official channels to, as the USPS put it, "protect its brand." ...

The White House began compiling a "very large" dossier on Pulitzer Prizewinning Washington Post reporter David Fahrenthold and reporters Josh Dawsey and Joshua Partlow after the Post requested comment for a story the journalists wrote that detailed how President Trump's company was charging the U.S. government for services at his resort, Mar-a-Lago. ...

Los Angeles NPR station KPCC reporter Josie Huang was forced to the ground and arrested while covering the ambush shooting of two sheriff's deputies. A video of the skirmish shows five deputies handcuffing her as she repeatedly screamed, "KPCC!" ...

While many American voters don't expect to know who wins on election night, news organizations are getting advice on how to avoid an electionnight disaster with their coverage. ...

The campaign for the Pennsylvania Senate's top Republican, Joseph Scarnati, is suing a publication of LNP Media Group and two journalists who uncovered questionable spending by the lawmaker and other politicians. Media experts say that if the suit prevails, it could make it easier for politicians to hide their campaign spending from the public while at the same time have a chilling effect on investigative reporting. ...

Journalists who cover education must track constant updates, as many K-12 schools and colleges reopen in the midst of the pandemic. Reporters are also navigating how to cover a beat and find sources when they can't physically be there. Another issue they face is how to convey the risks and the inevitable reports of school-based infections without fanning readers' fears. College media outlets are casting critical eyes at administrators. ...

Gallup and the Knight Foundation released their 2020 American Views survey, which found deepening pessimism and further partisan entrenchment about how the news media delivers on its democratic mandate for factual, trustworthy information.

Caught my eye: Conservation efforts prevented dozens of extinctions, study says. ... Are radioactive diamond batteries a cure for nuclear waste?

Closing words [with gratitude to Garrison Keillor and Prairie Home Productions]: "Religion is the everlasting dialogue between humanity and

______

back to p. 1 back to p. 2

God. Art is the soliloguy." — Franz Werfel

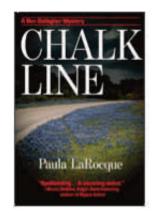

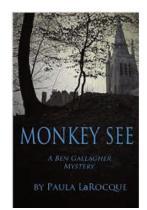

Get the new GFW Media Directory!

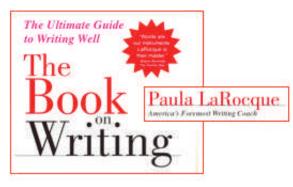

All about the community of model railroading and rail enthusiasm in the Midwest and Southwest

the LaRocque Family catalog ...

into How Our Words Work and Don't Paula LaRocque

RESOURCES

AP headlines Journalist Express The Washington Post Denver Post The New York Times Chicago Tribune San Francisco Chronicle USA Today Los Angeles Times Financial Times Time The Wall Street Journal BBC The Nation The Christian Science Monitor Newsweek The Sydney Morning Herald Bloomberg International Herald Tribune Cato Institute U.S. News & World Report ABC News CBS News CBS 11 WFAA-TV CNN NBC 5 ABC News: The Note Daily Kos Star-Telegram The Dallas Morning News Fort Worth Weekly Fort Worth, Texas Fort Worth Business Press Texas Monthly Dallas Observer The Hill Drudge Report The Texas Observer The Village Voice FrontBurner (D Magazine) Salon Burnt Orange Report The New Republic The American Conservative Center for American Progress The Texas Tribune

the industry / tools of the trade 11 Rules of Writing, Grammar and Punctuation writers.com wilbers.com Ethics AdviceLine for Journalists THE SLOT: A Spot for Copy Editors Center for Public Integrity Editor & Publisher Investigative Reporters and Editors Coalition of Journalists for Open Government National Institute for Computer-Assisted Reporting

Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press Poynter Online Pew Research Center Columbia Journalism Review Texas Legislature FOI Foundation of Texas

Merriam-Webster Encyclopedia Britannica NewsLink Wikipedia

organizations

Asian American Journalists Association DFW Network of Hispanic Communicators National Lesbian & Gay Journalists Association Native American Journalists Association Society of Environmental Journalists

The Onion

antidote

send additions for the list to: john@xdycus.com